

The Broadcast Flag Mandate is an intrusion upon the public's ultimate ownership of the air waves and equivalent technologies. The doctrine of fair use must be preserved and protected to ensure innovation and equitable rights for all stakeholders. The distribution "channels", AKA the content providers, rights aren't superior to those of consumers and creators.